Before Board meetings, the Board receives written information in the form of a CEO report that contains a follow-up of the company's sales, operational results, liquidity forecasts, interest rate and currency hedging, details concerning order backlog, the number of wind turbines under construction as well as comments concerning the various market trends. THE BOARD'S DESCRIPTION OF INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING FOR THE 2016/2017 FISCAL YEAR

The Board's responsibility for internal control is governed by the Swedish Companies Act and Swedish Corporate Governance Code. This includes monitoring Eolus's financial reporting and the effectiveness of the company's internal control and risk assessment.

Internal control over financial reporting aims to provide reasonable assurance of the reliability of the external financial reporting in the form of annual reports and interim reports published by Eolus every year, and that financial reporting is prepared in accordance with the law, applicable accounting standards and other requirements for listed companies. Internal control is also aimed at ensuring high-quality financial reporting to company management and the Board so that decisions can be made on correct grounds.

To describe internal control over financial reporting, Eolus proceeds from the five components of internal control defined in the COSO Internal Control-Integrated Framework – Control Environment, Risk Assessment, Control Activities, Information and Communication, and Monitoring Activities. The description below therefore relates to Eolus's internal control system in relation to the 1992 edition of the COSO Framework.

Control environment

The Board's rules of procedure and the Board's instructions for the duties of the CEO and the Board's Committees clearly define the division of responsibility and powers in order to ensure effective management of risks in the business operations. In its role as Audit Committee, the Board of Eolus reviews the instructions and procedures used in the financial reporting process as well as accounting policies and any amendments of these. The CEO reports to the Board of Directors, according to established procedures, on the operations and financial performance prior to every Board meeting. Internal control instruments for financial reporting mainly comprise the finance and risk policy, information policy and the Group's accounting manual, which defines the accounting and reporting rules.

Risk assessment and control structure

Significant risks for the operations are analyzed by the Board of Directors as part of financial reporting. The risk areas are documented on the basis of probability and their probable impact. Based on this, control processes are designed to ensure high-quality financial reporting. The organizational structure, and the division of responsibility and rules of authorization, are clearly described and communicated through instructions. The operations are organized into segments that are monitored.

Information and communication

An accounting manual with guidelines and instructions for financial reporting has been produced. The accounting manual is continuously updated and issued to the relevant employees at Eolus. Prior to all quarterly financial statements and the annual accounts, specific written instructions are also provided to ensure accurate information in the external reporting.

External communication is governed by Eolus's information policy and communication plan, which address responsibilities, procedures and rules. The policy is continuously evaluated to ensure that information to the stock market maintains high quality and is in accordance with the stock exchange's rules. Financial information such as quarterly reports, annual reports and significant events are published through press releases, and on Eolus's website. Meetings with financial analysts are arranged regularly in conjunction with the publication of quarterly reports.

Monitoring

Group management continuously analyzes the financial performance of the Group's segments. At all levels of the organization, continuous monitoring is generally performed through comparisons against budget, forecasts and plans, as well as evaluation of key figures.

Prior to Board meetings, the Board receives financial reporting on Eolus's performance. In addition to formal reporting, there are informal information channels to the CEO and the Board for significant information from employees. The Board continuously evaluates the information provided by the CEO. This involves ensuring that measures are taken in regard to any shortcomings and proposed measures that have arisen during the internal control and external audit.

The Board and the auditor engage in regular dialog. All members of the Board and the auditor receive a copy of interim reports before they are published. The Board and the auditor meet at least once per year, without the presence of management.

Opinions on internal audits

To date, the Board has not found any reason to establish an internal audit function, as the above functions are considered to fulfil this role. However, the Board annually evaluates the need for such a function.
